Settlers of Snowmantle

Player Reference

Jerana Fisher

Human woman, mid-60s. Weathered face, gray-streaked brown hair usually tied back, practical wool and leather clothing mended many times. Strong build from years of work; moves with purpose even when tired.
Profession: Caravan leader and settlement organizer. Handles rationing, work assignments, and disputes.
Personality: Steady, direct, and protective of the group. Speaks plainly and expects the same. Currently grieving the disappearance of Elara and Finn; she has begun taking short walks around the temple perimeter again, but her usual sharpness is muted. She does not waste words and dislikes false hope.

Elara Fisher

Human woman, mid-20s. Dark hair, similar features to Jerana but softer. Often wore a simple belt with Lila's doll tucked into it when traveling.
Profession: General labor and childcare within the Fisher household; assisted with camp tasks.
Personality: Warm with Lila, dutiful toward Jerana. Missing since the first major storm along with Finn Quickfletch. Fate unknown.

Lila

Halfling girl, 11 years old. Small, quick, with curly hair and a habit of staying close to Elara or other trusted adults. Carries a worn doll.
Profession: Child.
Personality: Observant and attached to her adoptive family. Settlers are protective of her. Her birthday passed unnoticed during the early winter shortages. She has been quieter since Elara went missing.

Torin Fisher

Human man, mid-30s. Jerana's son. Stands 6'2" with a broad, solid build, scarred hands, a thick black beard, and the callused palms of someone who has worked both nets and swords.
Profession: Guard captain for the caravan. Former soldier in the Dales.
Personality: Gruff, direct, and fiercely loyal to his family and the settlers under his watch. He has little patience for strangers and tends to size them up as potential problems until proven otherwise. Spits tobacco when thinking. Protective of Jerana and Elara; takes his duty seriously and expects the same from anyone carrying a weapon around the caravan.

Old Thom Kettlefish

Human man, late 60s. Thinning gray hair, lined face, slightly stooped. Wears layered, patched clothing and often has a pipe or carving tool nearby when not working.
Profession: General laborer and informal storyteller. Helps with lighter tasks and keeps oral history of the journey and the old dale.
Personality: Weary but clear-eyed. Speaks without embellishment about current conditions and is willing to share what he remembers of Snowmantle's past. Practical rather than optimistic.

Finn Quickfletch

Human man, adult.
Profession: Hunter / scout for the caravan.
Personality: Missing since the first major winter storm (with Elara). Fate unknown.

Mara Greenhand

Human woman, 30s. Practical build, hair usually tied up while working. Hands often stained from food prep or herbs.
Profession: Camp cook and food preparation. Works with available stores and assists with basic preservation.
Personality: Task-focused and steady. Has family with the caravan. Contributes reliably to daily survival work.

The Mossley Family

Young couple with a small child.

Garren Mossley

Human man, 26. Lean, outdoor build. Short brown hair, watchful eyes, light stubble. Dresses for weather and movement.
Profession: Hunter and trapper.
Personality: Quiet and observant. Few words unless the situation requires them. Deeply protective of Seline and Bren. Dry, understated humor once he is comfortable with someone. Dependable in a crisis.

Seline Mossley

Human woman, 24. Gentle features, practical clothing, often carries a small pouch of herbs. Calm posture even under stress.
Profession: Herbalist and cook's helper. Prepares simple remedies and assists Mara with food.
Personality: Nurturing, practical, and steady. Quick to offer comfort or basic treatment. Serves as the emotional center of her small family.

Bren Mossley

Human boy, 2 years old. Small, bright-eyed, constantly in motion when not sleeping.
Personality: Cheerful, curious, and energetic. Settlers often call him “little scout.” His presence noticeably lifts morale.

The Rowan Family

A sturdy, patched wagon pulled by two mules carries the Rowan family — a quiet, hardworking trio who keep mostly to themselves but are always the first to lend a hand when someone needs it. They are reliable settlers from Mistledale, traveling north to build a new life in Snowmantle. They ask for little and give much.

Widow Esmelle Rowan

Human woman, 36. Dark brown hair streaked with early grey, usually tied back in a practical braid. Strong hands, steady gaze, and the quiet strength of someone who has raised two sons alone.
Personality: Capable and no-nonsense.

Garrick Rowan

Human man, 20. Tall, broad-shouldered, and quiet. Almost always seen carrying the family axe or helping mend wagons.
Personality: Rarely speaks more than necessary.

Roric Rowan

Human man, 18. Slimmer and quicker than his brother, with a ready smile and thoughtful eyes.
Personality: Forages for the family and often helps with camp cooking.

The Birchwood Family

Young married couple (no children yet).

Tomas Birchwood

Human man, 24. Cobbler.
Personality: Practical, steady, and quietly optimistic. He has a dry sense of humor and is generous with his time and skills, often repairing boots for other settlers late into the night. Level-headed in a crisis but can become withdrawn when worried about the future.
Background: His ancestors fled Teshendale during its fall. Tomas carries a small heirloom awl that once belonged to his great-grandfather, and he hopes to one day open a proper cobbler’s shop in the new Dale.

Elara Birchwood

Human woman, 23. Weaver.
Personality: Warm, sociable, and naturally optimistic. She is a gifted storyteller who uses her weaving to create small gifts (scarves, patches, blankets) that lift the spirits of other settlers. She is slightly anxious about the dangers of the road but hides it behind cheerful conversation and song.
Background: Also of Teshendale descent. Elara learned her craft from her mother and dreams of weaving the banners and tapestries for Snowmantle’s first hall.

Ralthor Veyne

Human man, adult. Blends with the other laborers in dress and daily tasks.
Profession: General laborer.
Personality: Keeps to his work and does not draw attention.

Edda Moss

Human woman, adult.
Profession: Caregiver / general labor.
Personality: Has taken on tending the recent Frostlung cases. Steady presence with the sick.

Current Settlement Notes
The group is living in the temple. Food stores are critically low. Frostlung has appeared. Elara Fisher and Finn Quickfletch remain missing.
